CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE

MOSES AGAIN CALLED INTO THE MOUNT

It was not long until God told Moses to hew out two tables of stone like the first ones, and again come up on the mountain.

“And Moses rose up early in the morning, and went up to Mount Sinai as the Lord had commanded him, and took in his hand the two tables of stone.”

The Lord came down and stood with Moses on the Mount just as He said He would do.

“And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, the Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth.”

And Moses hastened and bowed his head down to the earth and worshiped God. Then Moses pleaded with the Lord to come among them, and to pardon all their sin, for he said he knew they were a stiff-necked people.

God, in His wonderful grace, renewed His promises and commands to Moses and again warned him of idolatry. He also reminded him about keeping the Sabbath.

Moses was in the mountain forty days and forty nights; he was listening to God and writing all the things God had spoken.
